

JOHN MAY IS NEW SHERIFF

Candidate Who Promised Prohibition Law Enforcement Assumes Duties as the Sheriff of Houston county.

John A. May, the reform candidate, today became sheriff of Houston county, succeeding Ben. O. Hay, whose term has expired. The affairs of Sheriff Hay were officially taken over by the new official.

The various papers, warrants, bonds, and other correspondence of the sheriff's office was checked out to the new sheriff by Mrs. B. O. Hay this morning, and Sheriff May was told the combination of the safe.

"Silent" Witnesses.

Some interest was created when in the checking out process, the outlay of "silent" witness was reached. This consisted of parts of clothing, in some instances blood stained, which told of their own graphic story. One exhibit consisted of a blood-stained knife.

Sheriff May will not occupy the office downstairs used by Sheriff Hay. This office will be occupied by Tax Collector Smith Hall. The sheriff has a suite of two rooms upstairs, at the southwest corner of the building, which has been neatly and attractively furnished with desks, tables and even carpets on the floor.

Warden in Jail.

One of the new changes among the first to be inaugurated by Sheriff May is the placing of a Warden in the county jail who will live there. He will be on the job regularly, it is said. The man chosen to fill this place is Grady Granger. The field force of Sheriff May has not been announced, but it is said he has a strong outlay of deputies.

No Statement.

When asked if he had anything to say for publication, Sheriff May said that he had nothing to give out to the press at this time. He is very busy familiarizing himself with the work of his office.

Sheriff May was elected on a law enforcement platform in which he promised to enforce the prohibition laws. In fact, he promised to endeavor to enforce all the laws.

Empress Has War Reels Wednesday

Authentic pictures of the European war, taken in Belgium by the staff photographer of the Chicago Tribune, will be exhibited in Dothan at the Empress Theatre, East Main street, Wednesday.

The management of the Empress has investigated this picture proposition, in order to be sure that the pictures are real, instead of being faked. They are convinced beyond doubt of the genuineness of the work, which is now being shown throughout the United States.

It seems that the Chicago Tribune made a contract with some of the Belgian officials to take war pictures in their country, provided one-half of the funds go to the Belgian Red Cross work.

DRUNKEN NEGRO CAUGHT BY GOP

Police Officer Horace Daugherty had a lively time Saturday night before he succeeded in capturing Charlie Mitchell, a negro, who ran amuck on South Apple tree street, no doubt badly frightening the women in that part of town.

The policeman made three trips to South Appletree, before he succeeded in catching the negro who was drunk. The officer fired his revolver several times, and finally pulled the negro out from under a house. He was fined $10 and sentenced to 30 days hard labor when arraigned in Mayor's court today.

Appalling Death List Marks Quake Disaster

Rome, Italy, Jan. 17.—A renewal of seismic disturbances early today added to the terror of residents of parts of the district visited by the disastrous earthquake last Wednesday.

Although today shocks were light, buildings which had been cracked and were tottering from the effects of the first disturbance were completely razed. In Avezzano and Soriano, which had suffered most in Wednesday's disaster, the people left the temporary shelters in which they are living and took refuge in the open places.

Rain and extremely cold weather in some parts of the district are hampering rescue work. In many of the towns thrown down by the earthquake it is feared there still are living persons beneath the debris and that unless they are extricated soon they will perish.

Casualties Increased

Last reports increase the extent of casualties and the extent of the damage done Wednesday. In the Department of the Abruzzi alone it is estimated that 30,000 persons met death.

The government has appropriated $1,000,000 for relief work and King Victor Emmanuel has donated $500,000 for aid of children abandoned by their parents or made orphans by the disaster. Relief supplies are pouring into the stricken districts and it is believed that shortly there will be sufficient food supplies everywhere. Train loads of timber also are being dispatched to the devastated towns for the erection of huts.

Mountain Cut in Two

In the highway near Orteuino the earth has opened, causing an immense pit filled with water the depth of which is unknown.

The terrific force of the earthquake cracked the mountains near Lano. Huge pieces of rock each weighing several tons rolled down the hillside burying cottages, killing cattle and obstructing the roads. Mount Pizzodeti, 6,450 feet high, between Balsozano and Raccero, was cut into two parts by an immense fissure.

Most of the dead at Orteuino are women and children who were buried under the ruins of a church which afterwards took fire. Many of those buried were burned alive.

Miss Mabel Hill and Mrs. Clarence Hill of Waycross, Ga., are guests of relatives in Dothan.

GARZA IS NAMED NEW PRESIDENT OF OLD MEXICO BY CONVENTION

Mexico City, Jan. 17.—General Roque Gonzalez Garza was named provisional president of Mexico last night by the National Convention here.

The former provisional president General Eulalio Gutierrez, together with Generals Blanco, Robles and Jose Vasconcelos left Mexico City at 4 o'clock this morning for Pachuco.

Martial law has been declared by General Garza. The city is being patrolled by mounted police.

In electing Garza the convention declared itself supreme and until a new president is elected has assumed all legislative and judicial powers.

Villa is Hastening Towards Mexico City

El Paso, Tex., Jan. 17.—The sudden change of the chief executive at Mexico City was made at an extraordinary session of the convention. The reason for Garza's replacing Gutierrez, who was appointed only last week by the Villa and Zapata convention was not disclosed here.

General Villa, with all the troops he hastily could assemble, is hurrying to the capital from Aguascalientes.

Dan Cupid Breaks In College Doors

That college walls are not impregnable when old Dan Cupid goes on the attack is clearly demonstrated in the case of Mr. Claude Manning, a charming young man of the Baptist College Institute at Newton, who was married to Miss A. Strong at the same place last night about 10 o'clock.

Mrs. Manning is the daughter of a Baptist minister who was away from home yesterday. She decided to get married and with her sweetheart began the execution of their plans. It did not take very long to carry out the matrimonial intentions. The couple came to Dothan.

The ceremony was performed last night and Mr. Clerk W. L. Ayres of the Probate office, the long time quiet going out in bed with a partner to perform marriage ceremonies for him says the ceremony may just as well be performed at his house.

The lovers started to Mr. Ayres' house about 10 o'clock but the rain was too much for them. They returned to the court house and got in a buggy and went to Mr. Ayres' home where he performed the ceremony.

BILL CREATES INTEREST

The bill introduced by Senator Lind to consolidate the Cherokee and Carant Counties, is causing some interest among lawyers, and is also a topic of conversation. This bill is a history, and a somewhat complicated one. It divides Henry, Johnston and Wilk counties in our present where are under existing conditions. The bill divides the counties of Johnston, Cherokee, Covington, Coffee and Pike.

PELHAM APPOINTED JUSTICE OF PEACE

COTTON UP TO 8 CENTS TODAY

The price of cotton advanced from 7 3/4 to 8 cents today, this being one of the most appreciable advances since the season opened, and one that will mean much to the farmers, if the staple does not take a downward turn. This is the best price paid for cotton since the beginning of the European war.

Buying Strong.

New Orleans, La., Jan. 17.—The price of cotton continued to rise last week without interruptions or reactions of consequence, although a large element in the market plainly expected a downward movement on the theory that the market was overbought and due to undergo considerable liquidation. Buying was of the strongest character and appeared to be, for the most part, on an investment basis. The net change was an advance of 1/4 to 1/2 points.

Bullish sentiment was stimulated by the large export movement for the week ending Friday, amounting to 1,086,029 bales. Bulls declared that engagements of tonnage by cotton shippers were heavy enough to warrant the prediction that the total would be 4,000,000 bales before the middle of February.

All futures for the week were unexpected large. Hester put them at 1,000 bales against only 98,999 a year ago. North Carolina mill takings were put at 95,000 bales against 62,000 a year ago, thus indicating improvement in business in mill districts which hitherto have done more or less complaining.

The coming week will probably be featured by increased efforts to cause a reaction, but the long run is confident that nothing but temporary downward price movements can be brought about as long as the export demand continues and the interior spot holders are no more willing to grant concessions than they have been of late. With the end of January approaching improvement in the spot demand is expected as the result of the filling out of shipments.

The wheat market is being watched very closely by the South because the rise in grain is thought by many to have had a somewhat the influence on cotton and again it is argued that this spring the South will plant high priced grain rather than low priced cotton. It is felt that further rises in corn and oats will result in heavy planting of those crops on cotton lands.

OLD CRAWFORD HOUSE BURNED

Residence Owned by Mayor Joe Baker is Destroyed.—No Insurance Carried.—Work of incendiary.

The old A. C. Crawford residence, a seven room frame structure, near Crawford and St. Andrews streets, owned by Mayor Joe Baker, was destroyed by fire, believed to have been of incendiary origin, at 2 o'clock this morning. The destruction of the house is a complete loss, as no insurance was carried. The house is estimated to have been worth $1,500.

Policeman Doc Reeves saw the flames and turned in the alarm to the fire station, and while the firemen made a quick run, the structure was a mass of flames when the apparatus reached the scene. Fire Chief Barber said this morning that he believes the house was fired by an incendiary.

The firemen laid a line of hose, but the flames had made such rapid headway, despite the rain, that the building could not be saved. The building was formerly owned by Probate Judge A. C. Crawford.

Chief of Police C. J. Rollins was to have moved into the house today, but he will have to change his plans.

GOOD QUALITY OF FOOD GIVEN FIGHTING MEN

London, Jan. 17.—Stored within the war office building are great piles of samples of meat, hard bread, bacon and cheese, which are used in keeping check on the army contractors. All food supplied by contractors must be delivered at certain military bases where a careful comparison is made between the samples and the goods.

This new system, which is said to be due to Lord Kitchener, has been a great improvement over the old. While in some cases food shortages have occurred, owing to delays in transport, there is no complaint as to the quality of the food. This is true at the front, as well as at home.

When the war office asked for tenders for bacon, the contractors underbid each other so that it was feared an inferior quality would be supplied. Thereupon the contract was distributed among a number of firms of high standing at a reasonable trade profit, the government reserving the right to inspect the invoices as well as the meat. This worked so admirably that it has been followed since.

FEWER MEN UNEMPLOYED AS RESULT OF THE WAR

London, Jan. 17.—The number of unemployed among the troops affected by the national insurance act, according to the latest report of the Board of Trade, is now considerably lower than the corresponding time last year. During August, the first month of the war, the per centage of those out of work doubled.

Similar statistics in regard to pauperism point to a return to normal conditions. In the week of the war, applications for relief under the poor law increased by 17 per cent. The movement of separation allowances, soldiers' families and the men in manufacturing war work have since co-operated to reduce distress until there are now no paupers shown in the official records for the country. In any year, according to the history of the poor law, the number of those dependent on the state is small.

Governor Henderson should pray to be saved from his friends and then try to do the best he can with his enemies.

It looks now as if the boll weevil would have to change his diet as the farmers in this section are not planning to raise much for him to eat.

Governor O'Neal is required by the constitution to furnish the legislature with a list of his pardons and the reasons therefor. We'd like to be present when the list of Dothan invalids is read.

One of the legislators is quoted as saying that there was not an honest judge on the bench, and none of them should receive more than $75 a month salary. Sam Jones used to say that some folk were so narrow between the eyes that a fly could sit on their nose and paw them in one eye and kick them in the other. But comparisons are odious.

The Path of Duty.

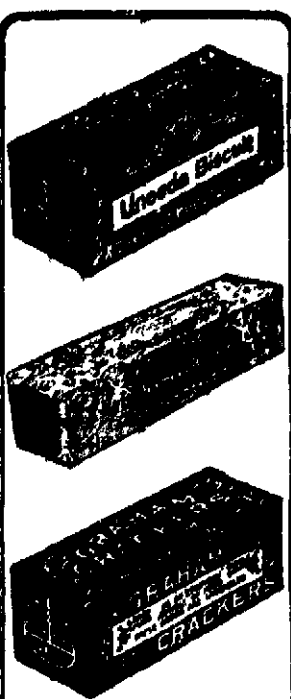

There was no reason why Governor Henderson, elect, should interfere in the organization of the House and Senate. He was under no obligation to the "organized liquor traffic." He was not their first, or even second choice for Governor. They simply supported him of necessity to beat Comer. On the other hand he received some fifteen thousand prohibition votes to which he owed his election. Many supported him on the strength of his severe indictment of the liquor traffic in his opening speech. The path of duty and official integrity is clear and unquestioned for him. As chief executive it is his duty to enforce the law with all the powers of this great state. With uplifted hand that is what he will swear to do—Bullock County Breeze.

aster of the century, and hardly a ripple of excitement about it. The world in the past six months has grown used to death and suffering and murder. The world's soul is becoming calloused. We are getting dead flesh on our hearts. We can't feel.

Does this mean the world is going back? Does this mean that we are nearer barbarism than we have been since Christ came into the world, bringing the great influx of divine spirit that great flood of spirit that has been maddening itself slowly but surely upon civilization for two thousand years?

It will take the perspective of half a century to see the good which must arise from this great human enthusiasm of the European war.

Where the South Misses it.

Charlotte Observer
In the manufacture and commercializing of its principal crop—cotton, wheat and corn the South fails of its opportunities in the two latter. Its cotton mill men are constantly adding new lines of diversification in the manufacture of the staple while the seed men are manufacturing all kinds of by products. The utilization of wheat is admirably to a great extent a Western and Eastern monopoly but corn offers almost as great opportunities as are found in cotton. The South has been losing a harvest in corn. It should pay equal attention to corn by-products as to the by-products of cotton. The possibilities in corn are manifest in the latest statement of the Corn Products Company. The mills of this company are now grinding at the rate of 80,000 bushels of corn every day, and this is an increase over recent production of about 10 per cent. The company is making big money in starch and syrups, its average for 1914 having been equal to that of 1913. It paid five per cent dividends and kept a large surplus in the treasury. There is money in the corn mill and corn refinery, as well as in the cotton gin and oil refinery.

Value of Publicity.

Philadelphia Ledger

A man sold the formula for making soap for $100,000. The purchaser could make as good soap of his own, but he was paying for the advertisements that had already gone into the soap he bought.

Put two breakfast foods exactly alike upon a counter, one of them bearing a new label and the other one of the widely advertised products. The storekeeper will sell 100 of the advertised brand for every one package of the unknown.

Another, but unknown, revivalist quite as picturesque, forceful eloquent, vindictive and slangy as Mr. Sunday might camp down here for a week and get nobody to come hear him while the Rev. Billy draws tens of thousands. A beautiful example of the power of advertising.

I don't care what you say about me, so you keep saying it all the time, was General Ben Butler's maxim. He knew the value of publicity.

Half the reputed political leaders in Pennsylvania would lose their crowns if the newspapers were unanimously to insist, day after day, that somebody else was the leader. More than one man whose idol has been created by a clever press agent.

A practical joker stops on the city hall plaza and looks and points toward the sky. In five minutes 500 others are doing the same thing. It is a case of following the leader, and that's what publicity does—points to a leader for you to follow.

The American Navy.

From the Indianapolis News

There is no reason for haste in adopting the ambitious naval program favored by the extremists. The wiser course would be to wait till we are sure that we have learned the many lessons that the present war will teach. Few as far as we have observed believe that the battleship is out of date. And yet it would be hard to say our peculiar needs here what they are, just what should be the proportion between such ships and submarines. The latter vessels have been proved to be very formidable and they will be still more formidable if their radius of action is increased as it is believed it will be. As far as our ports are concerned, they could be completely defended by submarines, mines and shore batteries. It is by such defenses that the British fleet the richest in the world has been held at bay for more than five months. It may thus be found that we can get along with considerably fewer battleships than we now demand. At any rate we can without risk wait and see.

When the war is over this country will be safer from attack than for many years. Not one of the belligerents would think of assaulting the United States unless our government forced the issue. All will be so weakened, exhausted and war-weary as to be almost forced to keep the peace. If the British and German fleets ever do meet, both may be crippled as greatly to reduce the navy to strength of both powers. In short we cannot tell how the war may affect our fleet until it is over.

We know that Europe will be staggering under billions of new debt that taxes in all countries will be enormous and that with every dollar men flock to the dollar it will be a terribly low price. Therefore, there will be a practically immunity against assault. By a war debt we can profit from the losses taught by the war, and without risk to our lives. We can indirectly save a dollar a month and perhaps ultimately get a higher price for our goods at a lower cost than now seems possible.

of vanity, set them flying at each other with tooth and claw and beak.

The French Zouaves, vain of their scarlet caps and trousers, for a long time, at least, refused to discard them even when it was shown that the red upon the landscape helped the German gunners to get their range and pick them off.

GLASS OF SALTS

OLDS KIDNEYS

If Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers You, Drink Lots of Water.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salt which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will not fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate the clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of the your kidney trouble and backache.

STATE-WIDE CROP DIVERSIFICATION PLAN

most of them on farms and in schools.
Leading farmers and business men in many parts of the State have pledged support to the movement in making it the most extensive farming campaign ever held in the south. W. B. Redd, of Birmingham, is chairman of the general campaign committee, and each county visited will have its committees to take care of the local meetings. Mr. Redd calls attention to the fact that while the headquarters of the general committee are in Birmingham the campaign is a state-wide movement and that the other cities and towns will have just as important a part in the work as Birmingham.

J. T. Watt, state farm demonstration agent, and J. E. Duggan, director of the experimental station at Auburn, are not only taking an active part in the work themselves, but they have enlisted all of the district agents and all of the county farm demonstrators in the State. The railroads are co-operating in the advance work and they will have their best farming men in the campaign itself. The agricultural extension department of the International Harvester company is not only giving trained organizers and advance men in the preliminary work, but has promised to give the services of some of the most successful farmers in the United States when the campaign begins. The International Harvester Company forces are led by P. G. Holden, who is known as "The Corn Wizard of Iowa."

No date has been set for the start of the campaign, but it will probably begin early in February and last for more than a month.
